Turkey Has Sent Troops for Service on Servian and Bulgarian Frontier.

LONDON, May 27.-The correspondent of The Standard at Constantinople says: The immediate entourage of the sultan favors restoring Thessaly to Greece. The Turkish foreign minister has spoken on the subject in a conciliatory tone to the Baron Di Calice, the Austro-Hungarian ambassador, asking only a little delay that the public excitement may subside.

"On the other hand the whole official and religious world, including the Sheik Ul Islam, denounces the idea of restorations, while every military measure points posed that the sultan was manufacturing the excitement to order to exact better terms of the powers are beginning to think he has gone too far and lost control of the situation.

"Russia does not conceal her extreme irritation at Germany's policy, which is so openly and persistently directed against Russia that many Turks accuse Germany of deliberately plotting to produce a rupture between the two countries."

The Appointee Says the Voters of the State Should Name Their Representatives.

Columbia, S. C., May 27.-(Special.)-Hon John L. McLaurin today filed his letter accepting the appointment tendered by Gov Ellerbe as United States sen

The letter is a manly, dignified one and conclusively that Mr. McLauring the people of his state should say who shall represent them in the halls of the national congress. He declares he does not want the place unless the voters of the state say he is their choice.

The letter says:

"To His Excellency Hon. William H. Ellerbe, Governor of South Carolina, Columbia, S. C. Dear Sir: Your notification of my appointment to the senate of the United States to fill the vacancy caused by the sad death of Senator Earle has been received. The pride and pleasure at the receipt of such a distinguished honor is saddened and sobered by the thought that our state has lost one who, to my mind, was the ideal representative of the culture, intelligence and refinement of southern civilization. letter says:

"With a profound consciousness of the responsibilities involved and an honest determination to represent as far as I am able the interest of the entire people of our beloved state, I accept your appointment. I desire, however, to say that I believe that United States senators should be elected by a vote of the people; and as the constitution debars us that privilege, I sincerely trust that the democratic state executive committee will, at its convenience, order a primary and give every democrat the chance of having a voice in the selection of one to fill this, the highest office in the gift of the people. If I am not selected I will humbly acquiesce in the wishes of a majority of my fellow citizens. If I am selected I will have the proud consciousness of knowing that I am in fact truly the representative of the people—the whole people of the state of South Carolina. It is peculiarly gratifying to me to receive this appointment at your hands, but had not the exigencies of the situation in the senate demanded the immediate appointment of the people—the whole, I hope the executive committee will see proper to do and other candidates see fit to enter. I shall at every meeting insist upon no one voting for me merely because I have been appointed to the position. I resign an office but little inferier in dignity and honor. If I am to be continued in the senate I want it to be given me in an election where every citizen, however humble he may be, can have an opportunity to eay so at the ballot box.

"Nothing would give me more pleasure than to represent South Carolina in the senate chamber of the United States after a free expression from the people themselves. Respectfully.

Mr. Vest, of Missouri, moved an amendment to paragraph 10, so as to fix the rate of crude borax at 1½c and refined borax at 2c per pound. After brief debate the amendment was disagreed to without division. The committee's substitute was agreed to. When paragraph 19, relating to barks, VAUGHAN IS TO BE DISTRICT ATTORNEY Ex-Senator Call Wants a Place on the Dawes Indian Commission.

Washington, May 27 .- (Special.)-It is be coming a personal matter with republican senators. The bitternesses engendered by various ways.

Floridian Gets Place.

Late last night when the republican steering committee of the senate was closeted at the Arlington, Senator Hawley, of Connecticut, and Senator Aldrich, of Rhode Island, clashed and came very near resorting to blows.

There is a difference of opinion as to what they fell out about, but for a time it looked as if their republican brethren could not keep them apart. Today they are talking of peace but there is much bad blood among the republicans and further clashes are inevitable. Aldrich is the one man who understands the inside facts about the tariff bill and he is inclined to take credit unto himself for a superior knowledge that is offensive to his fellow senators. He tells his colleagues that they must take this bill or far as to say they prefer to have none rather than indorse the sugar schedule which they are denouncing as barefaced robbery, but the probability is the party lash will get in its work on them at the proper time and they will do the bidding of the trusts, carrying out Mark Hanna's con-

Milner's Commission Held Up. And now it is the Jonesboro postoffic which brings a charge of republican bargain and sale.

Today Congressman Livingston had the ommission of G. A. Milner held up pending the investigation of charges which were placed on file against him. The most serious charge is that Milner, who is a populist, bought the indorsement of the republican county committees. It is also alleged that Milner has made trade by which he proposes to farm out the office to his bondsmen

Mr. Milner lives in Oak district of Clayton county, in the extreme northeastern part of the county, and his most direct route to Jonesboro is through Riverdale, regulations provide that a postmaster must reside within the delivery of the office. If that means, he must so reside when appointed, Milner is not eligible. The citizens of Jonesboro seem to be very nuch stirred up about the appointm

Vaughan Is District Attorney. William Vaughan, of Birmingham, was today nominated by the president to be district attorney for the northern district of Alabama. The appointment has created no surprise, for it has been stated from the

Vaughan is the most active republican to northern Alabama, and is chairman of the state committee. With Colonel Youngblood, he is a joint dispenser of patronage for the policy of the administration in one respect. That is the term of office of the democratic incumbent dates from his appointment, not from his confirmation. The present district attorney was appointed in May, 1893, but as not confirmed until August. A good many cases are affected by this decision of the administration, which reverses the early declarations on this point.

Call Wants an Office. When they once get a taste of it they can't let go. Ex-Senator Call is the latest. He was at the white house today to suggest to the president that he would like to be one of the democratic members of the Dawes Indian commission.

Senator Call's list of indorsements includes a large majority of his late colleagues and some of these are taking an active interest in his behalf. He did not get to see the president, as there were too get to see the president, as there were too many ahead of him, but he will go again. re does not seem much chance for There does not seem much chance for democrats on that "non-partisan" commission, however. The president recently suggested to Georgians who called in the interest of Tom Cabaniss, a member of it, that as it stands there is but one republican to four democrats, and the chances are he will reverse the order in due time.

Long, of Flovilla, Gets a Mission. At last there is hope ahead for De Long, the republican national committeemen for Florida. The doctor is one of the native pet baggers, for the tip is given out from the white house that Dr. Long is to get the Portuguese mission. Brown Is Nominated.

The list of appointments sent to the senate today includes one Georgia name. It is that of C. G. Brown, who is nominated for the Eastman office. The only fourth class office filled today was Penfield, Greene ounty, where R. P. Roswell is appointed.

Georgians in Washington Hon. Fleming duBignon is here on his way to New York, where he goes on legal significance and declines to discuss the polit cal situation. Captain John Miller, of Atlanta, and Mrs. Miller were here today.

guilty. "The verdict," he continued, "ought to be satisfactory to every decent man in this and every other community."

That was the only expression the president of the American Sugar Refining Com pany would make upon the result of his trial which had been in progress for three days before Judge Bradley.

The verdict was the culmination of long legal battle, which began three years ago, when Havemeyer declined as a witness before the senate sugar investigating committee to furnish the committee with data as to the political contributions made by the company of which he is president to the local and state campaign of 1892 and Broker Chapman, around whom the pre liminary battle waged, was found guilty and is now serving a thirty-day sentence in the district jail.

When the government rested its case yesterday the defense moved that the court instruct the jury to order an acquittal on six grounds, the principal one of which was that the committee did not have jurisdiction and that the question asked was not pertinent. This morning the court sustained the motion. Although the verdict of "not guilty" was given by the jury, it was a verdict re-turned under the court's direction and colaborer in the dispensary business is mounted practically to the judge's throwing the case out of court.

Judge Bradley in announcing his decision said that the propositions upon which the motion for the defense was founded incharged with having made to Mixson, late chief inspector, to the effect that 'Ben Tillman had lined his pockets with rebates, volved questions of great importance on the question which could not be decided by the court without the most careful conrestions on the same line from some of Governor Tillman's closest and generally sideration, especially that one which resupposed most confidential, personal and lated to the power and jurisdiction of the special committee appointed by the United States senate.

It has been impossible for the court in the few minutes since the argument terminated to consider carefully and accurately the grave questions involved. But holding that question in abeyance the court had given enough consideration to the other questions involved to enable it to dispose of the motion of the defense.

Judge Bradley then proceeded carefully to review the indictment. He read the statute prescribing the punishment-fine and imprisonment-for default or refusal to answer questions of a congressional committee and reviewed the decisions of the court of appeals and the supreme court n the Chapman case.

The questions asked of Mr. Havemeyer and Mr. Chapman differed somewhat, he said. The facts as shown tended to establish the facts as given in the indictment But, he asked, was the defendant guilty of contempt? This he said depended upon two propositions: First, did the committee have jurisdiction and was the question pertinent; second, did the question demand facts within the possession of the witness. A negative to either of these propositions, the judge said, would require the court to sustain the motion. The witness, the judge said, was not asked to produce the books which would show the data as to local and state political contributions, but the data from those books. He was not asked as to anything within his knowledge or recollection. Judge Bradley then read the question in extenso. Part of o national matters; as to state and local he had said there were contributi he had said there were contributions, but of their particulars he had no personal knowl-edge. Could it be contended, the judge asked, that Mr. Havemeyer had personal knowledge of this data? He thought not. The witness was expected to give any facts "within his knowledge." He was not called upon to prepare himself for any question the committee might say. He was called he committee might ask. He was only not to give data from records and books Could it be held that the witness was i default when he refused to answer ques-tions beyond his knowledge? Could he be neld in default for failure to produce the books, when he was not served with point. A defendant was ordered to produce his books before a referee. He did so and was ordered to leave them for examination. This the defendant declined to do and the cause in the summons he was not ordered to leave the books. Several other cases on the same lines were cited. Moreover, the judge continued, there was no evidence that an examination of the books, had one been made, would have refreshed a dormant n conclusion, "would hold him guilty of contempt, and if he is not guilty of contempt, then this case is baseless. It is not necessary to decide whether the senate committee had jurisdiction to inquire whether the sugar corporation had contributed to state and local campaigns. When the question is raised the court will decide it. There are other subsourt will occuse it. There are other sub-sidiary questions in support of the motion of the defense, but it is unnecessary to go into them now. The court sustains the mo-tion and instricts the jury to return a ver-dict of not guilty."

THE WEATHER.

Marked changes have occurred upon the weather map since the last published report. The high pressure area has settled down to the southeast and a second area of high pressure has developed in the northwest, while a trough of low pressure occupies the country from the great lakes diagonally across the country to Texas.

The high area in the porthwest caused a fall in temperature in the upper Mississippi and Missouri valley. In the south throughout the cotton belt the temperature was somewhat warmer. Light rain feli yesterday in the lake region, upper Mississippi and Missouri valley and in Kansas.

The forecast for today is fair, except showers in extreme northern portions of the state. Marked changes have occurred upon the Mortgages and Money Lenders.

Mr. Thomas Hitchcock, the financial editor of The New York Sun, who, for some reason or other signs his articles "Matthew Marshall." turns his attention to the proposition to establish land mortgage banks, and, in the course of his article makes some very suggestive observations on matters in general.

He shows, without intending to do so, that the increased value of money as compared with all other property and products, has begun to cause some trouble among the smaller fry of the money lending class, who, like the blind bull that trod in the yellow-jacket's nest, don't know what is giving them so much

Mr. Hitchcock calls attention to the fact that the city banks are overflowing with loanable funds, which they find difficulty in putting out even at 1 per cent per annum, while "one of them. the Third National, has retired from usiness because of its inability to earn dividends."

"Because of its inability to earn dividends!" The statement goes very deep into the conditions created by money that is more valuable than anything i can buy, and which, at this moment, is at a premium over the legal value in England. When the banks of this country, taking their cue from the agents of the "international capitalists" of Europe, began their work of nursing public sentiment in behalf of the single gold standard. The Constitution warned them that they would eventually become the victims of their own folly.

Since The Constitution made that statement, hundreds of the smaller banking institutions have disappeared in the huge vacuum created by the gold standard. And the disappearance has not been confined to state and private banks. Official figures show that since 1893, 213 national banks have gone into liquidation, and 147 are declared insolvent. Meantime twenty new banks have been established, so that the net reduction in the number of national banks is 127. These figures do not include the failures and liquidations that have taken place

All the national banks, except a few of the very strongest, are feeling the effects of the general stagnation in business, and the result is a general movement among them in the direction of consolidation. A large New York bank has been absorbed by a larger one. The Columbian bank at Washington is said to be organizing a trust among the tanks of that city, and already controls the National Bank of the Republic and the Metropolitan National bank. the national banks at Kansas City have combined, the weaker passing into the hands of the stronger. The conditions which compel the movement were foretold by The Constitution three years ago, and no gift of prophecy was neces-

Mr. Hitchcock, in The Sun, after showing that there is no demand for money, discusses the proposition to establish land mortgage banks. He points out that the amount of money poured out by the east on western and southern farm mortgages has never been accurately computed, but according to the census of 1890, the total amount of mortgages on farm land in force in that year in states west of New York and south of Maryland is nearly two thousand mil-

To this information, Mr. Huchenek adds a word of comment. "How much of this amount has been irretrievably lost, no statistics show," he says, "but the number of eastern investors who were inveigled into lending most of it, and have never got back either prircipal or interest, must be immense. No doubt The Sun's financial editor is aware of the fact that if there was any inveigling, it was not done by the farmers and land owners who borrowed the money. That eastern investors are stupid enough to be "inveigled" is a very surprising statement to be found in The Sun. Our impression, in spite of that statement, is that the money-lenders were not "inveigled" at all, but money for the sake of the large amount of interest and comp sions they were able to get out of the farmers of the south and west.

Under all the circumstances, is Mr Hitchcock really surprised that a large mount of the money loaned on land mortgages has been lost? Could any other result be expected? Why, the very men who invested this money in southern and western farms turned right around and placed themselves behind a scheme which they knew would destroy more than half the value of the property on which they had loaned money. Whether they are really blind as to the results of the single gold standard, or whether they are willing to lose with one hand in order to gain with the other, is a question which we are unable to determine, but these results have played havoc with their farm mortgages.

The value of agricultural lands de pends on the money returns of the prodnets raised thereon. When Mr. Cleve land, to please these money-lenders, declared that all the currency of the country is redeemable in gold, he not only wiped out the marketable value of farm lands, but placed it out of the power of the farmers to pay off their mortgages, The holders of the mortgages may have been "inveigled" into making loans on farm lands, but how could they be "inveigled" into indorsing a measure of value that makes money (which ought to be a mere instrument of exchange) the most valuable of all forms of property?

The Sun's financial editor says that the things for farmers to do "is to lay by money out of their earnings, year by year, until they have enough of their own and do not have to borrow." This is very comfortable doctrine. But when, by reason of the doubled value of money. the products of the farm have steadily shrunk in selling price in the markets, how can Mr. Hitchcock expect the farmers to lay by money? As a matter of fact, the farmers and those who depend directly on them have money enough to buy only the bare necessities beyond those which they produce. It is on this account that the trade and commerce of the country have come to a stand

Perhaps the financial editor of The Sun by reasoning from what has happened, is able to look ahead.

Proposed Irish Reforms.

Ireland may yet participate in the sestivities attendant upon the sixtieth anniversary of Queen Victoria's reign.

For some time it looked as if the green isle, on account of its peculiar tribulations, would have no heart to engage in the approaching carnival, but within the last few days much of the gloom which has hovered over the country has been dispelled.

The reason for this change is found in the agricultural relief and local selfgovernment measure recently proposed by the British government. Though it does not create a Dublin parliament, nor refund to the Irish people the excessive taxes collected out of their pockets during the past thirty-five or forty years, it is, nevertheless, in the nature of a substantial concession to Irish interests. It provides for a reduction of agricultural taxes to the extent of $3,250,000. Of this amount $1,250,000 will go to the relief of landlords, and $2,000,000 to the relief of tenants. It also provides for a system of local government in Ireland which places the management of home affairs largely in the hands of Irishmen themselves. In the belief that home rule will ultimately follow this concession, the measure is warmly supported by all political parties and factions in Ireland. It has yet to be enacted by parliament, however, and some time must elapse before the reforms therein contemplated are really granted to the Irish people.

A Groundless Complaint. In a recent interview on the subject of state emigration Dr. J. C. Curryer, of the Minnesota Farmers' institute, complains that Georgia has not made satisfactory provision for supplying data to prospective emigrants from the northwest concerning her material resources and advantages; and that because of the state's failure in this respect inquiring parties are forced either to visit the state in person or else to adopt some other difficult means of securing intormation. Before addressing ourselves to this complaint it is well to notice what Dr. Curryer says further. In this same interview he states that on account of the popular idea prevailing in the northwest that Georgia is the state in which to settle, he has found it necessary to visit this section himself for the purpose of collecting data to carry back with him. In regard to his visit he is kind enough to state that what he discovered while here more than convinced him of Georgia's extraordinary resources but that in crder to make his data complete, it would be necessary for him to come back again in the fall. Without criticizing Dr. Curryer, who seems to be intent upon getting all the light he can, it is evident from the tone of this complaint that he has not put himself in communication with the department of agriculture. Had he simply addressed a letter to Commissioner Nesbitt, or made it convenient to call upon him during his visit to this state, the difficulty of which he complains might have been effectually removed. Georgia has never had a more vigilant or enterprising officer in charge of her agricultural department than Commissioner Nesbitt, and had Dr. Curryer applied to him or to the department for nforma tion he would have been supplied in a most satisfactory manner.

While the state has never made any definite appropriation for agricultural literature, Commissioner Nesbitt has managed out of the meager sum annually appropriated to his department to ources of the state and to publish it in pamphlet form. Recently some ten thouand pamphlets were issued by the de partment for the special purpose of meeting the wants of home seekers. These pamphlets treated the subject of Georgia's resources exhaustively, and left nothing untouched which could pos sibly elicit substantial inquiry. Be dealing with the various soils and agricultural products of the state they also and the waterpower of its different streams. Thousands of these pamphlets were distributed to northern and western visitors during the exposition, and thousands have since been distributed through the mails. Had the commissioner rested here he would have fulfilled the most rigid requirements of his office and no complaint could have been preferred against him; but not satisfied with merely issuing these pamphlets, he has since compiled with great difficulty a most elaborate handbook of Georgia, containing some 500 pages. This volume not only deals with the resources of the state in a general way, but also specifies the inducements which each individual county in the state affords to immigration. A more satisfactory ume has never been published, either in Georgia or elsewhere. There is only one way to judge of the work which the agricultural department of the state is doing to interest homeseekers, and that is by its results. Within the past few years Georgia has furnished more homes to immigrants than any two other southern states, and scarcely a day passes without bringing to the commissioner's office letters of inquiry from the northwest. When Dr. Curryer returns to Georgia next sall it is to be hoped that he will take Commissioner Nesbitt into his confidence,

Intemperance and Hard Times Unmistakable indications of the hard times through which this country has passed since 1893 may be found without going very far. One of the most convincing of these signs, however, is furnished by a table published in The New York World, showing the amount of ardent spirits consumed in the United States per capita during the past few

In 1892, before the present era of depression commenced, there were nearly 100,000,000 gallons of whisky sold in this country, or 1.5 gallons to every man, woman and child. In 1896 the per capita amount of whisky sold in the United States' amounted to only one gallon. The following table shows in detail the gradual decline which has taken place in the sale of liquors since 1892:

Spirits, Wines, gallons.....1.50

While it would be far more gratifying to account for the decline in liquor receipts by ascribing it to a growing sentiment in favor of temperance, such is, unhappily, not the case, and the only explanation consistent with the facts is the one of hard times.

A Growing Sentiment.

The proposition recently advanced to refer the matter of preparing a truthful history of the late war to a commission composed of leading educators selected from both sections of the country seems to be meeting with general

Leading newspapers, both north and south, have cordially espoused the idea, and there seems to be little or no opposition. One of the most significant expressions on the subject comes from the Wisconsin department of the Grand Army of the Republic. At a recent meeting the department adopted the following preamble and resolutions:

The war between the north and south ended nearly a third of a century ago-ended to the honor and glory of the best government ever vouchsafed to man-Whereas, There has not yet been prepared for use in the public schools of the United States chapters on that great war for a school history that does exact justice to states, armies, battles and leaders and are satisfactory to both north and Whereas, Such chapters in a school history are most desirable, and would be of incalculable benefit to the country in proper instruction of the youth; therefore be it That it is the belief of the department of Wisconsin, Grand Army of the Republic, that the surest, quickest, easiest and best way to secure such chapters for a national school history is to select for the work a commission of distinguished educa tors from the ranks of the contending ar nies in the contest from 1861 to 1865. Resolved, That our representatives to the national encampment, which meets at Buffalo next August, be requested to presen this matter to that honorable body.

Within the next few weeks it is like ly that similar action will be taken by other organizations, both federal and confederate. That the alleged history recently prepared by Professor J. I McMaster, of the University of Pennsyl. vania, is destined to meet with the hearty disapproval of the Grand Army seems clearly evident.

Closing the Mills.

We note with a mixture of surprise and regret that the cotton manufacturers of New England are making preparations on a very large scale for a very 'cold" summer so far as trade is concerned. They are making arrangements for an extensive shut-down during June and July, and it is thought that all the larger mills will come to an agreement

We note also with a mixture of surprise and regret that the large dividends which some of the New England mills. especially those of Fall River, have been paying, were taken from the surplus earnings of the year previous to 1893 Reflecting over these things we ask ourselves and our readers if Mr. Mc-Kinley was dreaming when he stood on his ample door-mat and announced to the multitudes that, if elected, he would "open the mills to labor." rather than open the mints to silver. Evidently he was not misquoted, for the newspapers devoted to his party and to the standard took up his remark and used it as a campaign "slogan." It became a part of the republican pledge. "We will open the mills to labor!" was the cry. But now what do we see? In the third month of the great Mill-opener's administration, and while a mill-opening tariff bill is pending, the cotton New England are preparing to close for two months, if not for a longer period, What does that mean? It was as the original Advance Agent of Prosperity, and the great Mill-opener, that Mr. Mo-Kinley was elected. fraud on the public. Thus, instead of "opening mills to labor," the republican party is actually engaged in closing them. Meanwhile, though the whole country knows that the republican administration is a fairure before it is fairly begun, Mr. Hanna is said to be engaged in opening up another campaign.

PAST TARIFF BILLS

And the Time Taken by Each on Their Way Through Congress.

James Creelman in The New York Journal The history of all the tariff bills that have been before congress in the past fifty years shows that the tendency to debate such measures has been steadily growing. More time is consumed each time a revenue measure comes up.

The Walker tariff, which became a law July 30, 1846, was debated in the house of representatives for twelve days, and fifteen days were taken for its discussion in the senate. Many of the speeches delivered were not printed in The Giobe, as The Record was then known. The statesmen that day had not thoroughly awakened to pitalities of extending his remarks for the benefit of his constitu fore trouble was experienced in getting the Morrill act before congress than ther was in debating it and passing it once it was in debating it and passing it once it came before either house. The bill was introduced in the house March 12, 1860, and it was one year, except ten days, until it became a law. The bill was under discussion in the house eighteen days. It passed May 10th, and the same day was sent to the sents and referred to the sent to the senate and referred to the

On Jan-uary 23d it was referred to a special committee of five, with instructions to report it in a week, one attempt having been made in the meantime to have it made a special order for a certain day. On Febru ary 1st the special committee reported the which was ordered printed. It was until February 8, 1861, that the bill was taken up in committee of the whole for discussion, and then it was only read once It was under actual discussion seven days 20th. From that time until March 2d, is dragged through the slow process of con

After it had been reported from the finance committee it was under discussion in the senate thirty-three days. The house placed tself on record against the constitutiona ity of the action of the senate and did not discuss the bill. Conferees were appointed and the bill was five days in conference. As soon as the accident occurred Super-intendent Tarrell, of the railway mail service at this place, was telegraphed of the fact. Mr. Terrell at once telegraphed for fuller account of the wreck. He is of the opinion that the mails can be recovered if they have not washed too far down the river. Several months ago, when a mail train went through a trestle into a river in Ohio, the recovery of the mails was despaired of, but owing to the good work of the mail service the mail pouches were fished out of the river and the mails sent to their proper destination. Colonel Harris—for he is a colonel, being a member of Governor Atkinson's staff-has not been in Washington three months et, having gone there March 4th, with enator Clay, but he has been put in the front rank of private secretaries. The private secretaries of congressmen and senators have formed a society in Wash-ington known as the Democratic and Bi-Metallic Secretaries' Association. It had a big banquet at the Ebbitt house Wednes-day night, and "Colonel" Will Harris, who has been elected president of the associahas been elected president of the association, presided. There were several guests of great distinction, but the foremost were at distinction, but the foremost were arthur P. Gorman, of Marylan and Hon. Amos Cummings, of New York These genetlemen sat to the right and left of Colonel Harris. Many brilliant toasts were responded to, and it developed that the gathering was in favor of William J. Bryan for president four years hence. The organization was only recently formed, but t numbers among its members practically all of the secretaries of democratic sens

He was introduc Toastmaster Harris, who spoke of him as one of the foremost men of the day, who, rising from a page in the capitol, was now an inspiration to all young men to follow his noble example of loyalty, fidelity and pluck. Senator Gorman said that it made him feel at home to look around the board and see so many faces which were familian in his every day life at the capitol. It took him back to many years afo, when he was engaged in contributing to the success of men in public life as these young men were doing.

The senator made a rousing speech, followed by Amos Cummings and quite a large number of other brilliant speakers.

this was done?'
The commissioner answers the question very interestingly and offers suggestions which are well worth consideration not only of the farmers but of the fertilizer compamies. His reply is as follows:

"A good, strong cotton sack, to hold 20 pounds of fertilizer, would weigh about one pound. Georgia has bought, during the past season, nearly 4,000,000 sacks of fertilizers. Had those sacks all been made of cotton, 8,000 bales, of 500 pounds to the bale, would have been required. Assuming that Georgia uses one-fifth of the fertilizers and ein the United States, then $0,000 bales of cotton would be used in sacking the entire output of the country. Forty thousand bales of cotton, though but a small fraction of the crop, would be well worth diverting into a new channel, and I hope it can be effected. It is an open question whether or not the use of cotton bags would add to the cost of fertilizers. The present price of burlap bags is about $\textit{\textit{he}}_2$ cents each. The abominable tariff bill, which will soon pass congress, will add $3$ per cent to this, which will bring the cost of the burlap sacks to about $9$ cents each. A good cotton sack will cost at present prices of cotton about 12\(\textit{he}_2$ cents each. A good cotton sack will cost at present prices of cotton about 12\(\textit{he}_2$ cents each. A good cotton sack will cost at present prices of cotton about 11\(\textit{he}_2$ cents each. A good cotton sack will cost at present prices of cotton about 11\(\textit{he}_2$ cents each. bring about satisfactory results to both parties. Cotton sacks were used during the past season by some of the fertilizer the past season by some of the fertilizer manufacturers with entire satisfaction to themselves and their customers, and it would be well if all the manufacturers would use them. Should their use, however, add 30 cents a ton to the cost of fertilizers, then we don't want them, for that would mean over $100,000 annually for the farmers of Georgia alone, for which the new outlet of $000 bales of cotton would in no wise compensate them. The entire matter resolves itself into this: The farmers would like to buy their guano put up in cotton sacks, now let the manufacturers examine into the question carefully and see if it is possible to gratify them."

Authorship of the Circular. Sidney Lascelles, the groom of forty-eight hours, left Fitzgerald in hot haste yesterday afternoon for Atlanta. He will be here for breakfast this morning. Mayor Goodnow, his best man at the wedding, is standing by him, and is with him.

author of the story which was printed as a circular and widely distributed in Rome on Wednesday. The story said that a French woman with whom he was intimate had influenced Miss Pealey, the $100,000 helr-ess, to wed him, and it further said that Lascelles was influencing his father-in-law to pay court to the fair Parisienne.

The author of the circular is unknown in Atlanta, but it is probable that Lascelles has some suspicions. His friends in Fitzgerald declare that the circular is a libel-ous canard. And they urged him to enter suit against the party responsible for their printing and distribution. It is pr that Lascelles will not have r orted that the article was offered to Rome newspaper for publication before appeared in circular form.

Lascelles and Mayor Goodnow will stop the Kimball today.

It had not been supposed by the Atlanta representatives that more than $10,000 would be required and, therefore, at first blush they were surprised. Alderman Frank Rice they were surprised. Alderman Frank Rice said he thought the amount was too high. Mr. J. E. Hickey wanted to know what was to be done with the $4,500.

It was explained that this money would go to advertising, to the payment of salaries of clerks, superintendents, and to general operating expenses necessary to carry on the enterprise. Ex-President Waddell, of the society, gave a lucid explanation of the expenses required. He stated that he thought it would be an easy matter to realize that amount. At previous fairs the gate ize that amount. At previous fairs the gate receipts had always amounted to $25,000. The concessions would easily go up to $2,000 and other sources of revenue would increase this amount.

After some discussion it was decided to appoint a sub-committee to consult with the Atlanta people.

This consultation was held, but there was

This consultation was held, but there was no material result. The Atlanta committees were not authorized to act. There was a liberal spirit shown, however, in spite of apparent conservatism, and it was not difficult to see that all present were in favor of holding the fair.

BILL REPRESENTS MANY BONDHOLDERS

Judge Lumpkin Has Been Petitioned To Appoint a Receiver and Grant Further Relief That May Be Equitable Under the Circumstances.

An interesting intervention was filed yesterday before Judge Lumpkin in the case of J. H. Purtell and others against the United States Bond and Mortgage Company, in which several rather sensational charges are made. The intervention was filed by Attorney Joe S. James who represents a number of bondholders aggregating several thousand dollars.

The intervention prays for all relief that may be equitable under the circumstances and that the parties named in the bill may be made parties plaintiff in the case. They ask that a receiver be appointed, both temporarily and permanently, and that he be authorized to take charge of all the assets and affairs of the company. Leave is also asked of the court to amend the petition so as to show the true condition of affairs in the company. It is charged that many frauds and unlawful transactions have been made in the management of the company and these, it is said, will be explained to the court as soon as the plaintiffs have opportunity.

The total amount of bonds represente by the plaintiffs in the bill aggregates the sum of $25,000. The plaintiffs in the case are: Mariah Gartrell, J. H. Foster, M. A. Ellison, H. T. Trowbridge, Simon Baer, C. B. Thomas, W. B. Wood, Louis C. Pulatt, L. Ingram, L. D. McDonald, Flora Lester, J. P. Giles, Lee Felder, L. McFadden, V. A. McFloaine, Haynes Milner and Miss M. K. Davidson.

After setting out the declarations the names of the plaintiffs and other immaterial points the petition shows the following facts, which are alleged to be true:

"Petitioners feel justified in charging, and believe the charge to be true, that the United States bond and Mortgage Company is hopelessly insolvent and un-able to pay its debts and carry out its obligations and further continue its busi-ness.

"And from the best information and belief petitioners allege that some of the officers of said company have colluded with other persons for the purpose of defrauding and appropriating the funds of the United States Bond and Mortgage Company and have taken the said funds under some pretended claim, without warrant or authority of law, in the sum of $3,000 or other large sum of money, which has been deposited in — bank of the city of Atlanta, and by these unlawful transactions have undertook with and has been deposited in —— bank of the city of Atlanta, and by these unlawful transactions have undertook with and by the consent of some of the persons in charge of said bank, have transferred said sum of money from the account of said United States Bond and Mortgage Company to that of Harry Cassin, or to some other person not entitled to the same for the purpose of defrauding the bondholders, petitioners and others who had invested in the bonds of said company and for the purpose, as petitioners charge and believe, to pay some large sum of money which the said Harry Cassin owed said bank.

"This, petitioners charge, was done with the full knowledge with those who claim to be officers and directors of the United States Bond and Mortgage Company and also with the full knowledge and consent of the officers of said bank.
"Petitioners further charge that a number of those who claim to be directors of the United States Bond and Mortgage Company, and who continue to pretend to run the business of said company, are not the lawful directors, as previded by the bylaws of said ccmpany, which bylaws provide that no one can be a director of the company who is not a stockholder.

"Some of the pretended directors claim that Mr. Gress is president, others that Mr. Lester, but from the best information petitioners can gather, neither Gress nor Lester claims to be president of the company." In this connection petitioners further

The difficulty between old man Josh Calloway and Patrolman W. M. Jolly had an airing for the first time in the police court vesterday afternoon, when the case against Calloway was called. He was charged with being drunk and disorderly. A merchant testified that Calloway had gone in a store and gotten several ears of corn and that he then came over to the store of witness and deliberately threw an ear of corn in the door. Witness sent a little boy, a son of Patrolman Jolly, after an officer, and when the little fellow returned Calloknocking out two teeth.

Net Changes in Prices Were Narrow but Are Mostly Losses, Some Few Stocks Showing Gains.

LONDON BOUGHT ABOUT 12,000 SHARES

New York, May 27.—Opening Review: lightly higher prices were apparent at he outset of trading in stocks, the more noteworthy gains being shown in the international shares in sympathy with Lon-don. Trading was in considerable volume, large blocks of leading shares changing nds. There was one transaction of shares of St. Paul at 75%. The coalers developed heaviness and receded fractionally on short sales induced by apprehension as to the outcome of the argument to be heard today as to whether the examination of the coal roads president shall be proceeded with under the antitrust law. Some concessions were noted in the general list, but the losses were soon recovered and a higher level of values established. This was partly oblitby a determined attack on the market by the bears at the expiration of the first hour in which Sugar, Western Union and Chicago Gas were offered freely. The recessions in the general list were quite uniform. London was also a buyer at the low figures. The Rubber shares came in for a heavy selling movement after 11 o'clock, which was induced by the ac-tion of President Evans in declining the re-election which was tendered him yes-terday and rumors as to the cause. The terday and rumors as to the cause. The common stock fell 3½ to 10%c and the preferred 4½ to 58½. Support was quickly forthcoming and the common railled % and the preferred 1½. The bears also succeeded in working a decline in Gould stocks effecting a loss of 1½ to Missauri stocks, effecting a loss of 1½ in Missouri Pacific. The downward movement in New Jersey and Chicago Gas continued unin-terrupted, and renewed liquidation in Bal-timore and Ohio on uneasiness regarding the forthcoming interest disbursements de pressed the stock to 9%. The high priced industrials were prominent in the selling movement. But little attention was paid to the railway shares, which, however, showed a small recession from the best prices. Business diminished in volume on he slump.

The bond market displayed general firmness on light transactions. The St. Louis and San Francisco issues commanded a fair degree of attention at improved prices. Sales of stocks to floop 93,200 shares. New York, May 27.—Closing review: The market was quite strong for a time today, but the rather sensational slump in the Rubber shares and large selling in Baltimore and Ohio put a stop to the rise and also to the activity of the trading. The volume of the dealings in all stocks for the three hours of trading after the noon hou was only about one-third of that for the two hours before noon. Lack of confidence in the stability of values on the part of the essional traders, who still control the market almost altogether, was illustrated by the promptitude with which they pro-ceeded to take profits on rather slight prov-ocation. Those who are doing the built of the trading are evidently in the market for a short turn, though there was some continuance today of the commission house buying which has indicated awakening of outside interest in the mar-ket. The fall in the Rubber shares was coupled with a rumor that it was caused by liquidation of interests retiring on ac count of the declination of a re-election count of the declination of a re-election by President Evans. This accentuated the decline without the sales reaching an extraordinary volume. After an extreme decline of 3½ for the common and 4½ for the preferred, these stocks rallled rather strongly, the common closing at 12 and the pretered at 60½. All the securities of the Baltimore and Ohio that were dealt in showed heaviness on the belief that the commany will default on its lune let intershowed heaviness on the belief that the company will default on its June 1st interest payments, which, including interest on both bonds and receiver's certificates, amount to about $600,000. The stock fell 1½ and radiled only a fraction. Of the bonds, the 5s of 1925 sold 10 points off; 5s of 1925, resigntered, 8 points, and the consol 5s, 12 points off. One or two other incidents served to depress values somewhat, one being the hearing of arguments on the order enjoining the summons to coal road presidents to answer charges of conspiracy under the New York anti-trust law. This hearing was postponed without notably relieving the coal shares from pressure. Some sentimental effect was exerted upon 3ugar stock by the trial of the president of the company for contempt of the senate, but the dismissal of the case at Washington yielded no substantial benefit to the stock. The market was remarkably dull at periods of decilne. London appeared to be a ready yielded no substantial benefit to the stock. The market was remarkably dull at periods of decline. London appeared to be a ready buyer of nearly all the international stocks when they fell below the London parity. The total purchases for London account were estimated at 12,000 shares. The net changes in prices are narrow, but are mostly losses, some few stocks showing gains which reached a point in the cases of Michigan Central and Erie first preferred. The total sales of stocks for the day amounted to 136,931 shares, including American Sugar Refining 12,600. Burlington and ulncy 21,100, Chicago Gas 12,900. St. Paul 17,700, Western Union 5,600.

The railway and miscellaneous bond market was characterized by violent fluctuations in a number of cases, including the Baltimore and Ohio Hens, which are elsewhere referred to, and Kansas City and Pacific firsts, which receded 3% per cent. Marked strength was noted in some of the prominent issues, which was attibuted to liberal purchases for continental account. Sales were $1,239,000.

Government bonds were strong and higher on transactions of $43,000.

Money on call easy at 14,401½ per cent; last loan at 1½, closing at 14,401½ per cent; prime mercantile paper 3,44 per cent.

Paine, Murphy & Co.'s Grain Letter Atlanta, May 27.—The afternoon session was characterized by its duliness more than anything else. A brief raily took place when it became known that the house had adjourned until next week without considering the Cuban resolutions. An attempt was also made to rally Su when the Washington dispatches were selved stating that the case against Mr.

was an almost total absence of moderate liquidation took place. The clos-ing was on an average of % to % per cent lower than last relationship. ower than last night.

There is certainly no reason for selling the Grangers at the present moment. In Nebraska, Kansas and the northwest the outlook for the crops has seldom, if ever, been so favorable.

Chicago Gas reflected the uncertainty that is felt with regard to the action of the Illinois legislature. The buying of the morning was thought not to be as good as selling, whereas in the afternoon the brokers closely connected with insiders took about 3,000 to 4,000 shares.

London bought during the first two hours and also at the close. It was largely due to this buying that Northern Pacific was so strong.

The bulls are by no means discouraged by the fractional declines today, but are inclined to look upon it as a good thing to have some of the weak long interests

The Post's Financial Cable.

The Post's Financial Cable.

New York Evening Post's financial cablegram: There was a further general imp. ovement in the stock ma kets today, partly due to the giorious weather. Home rails are booming again, but quite the feature is the strength of Americans. I cannot report much public interest, but the personal interest undoubtedly increases with every bullish talk, and tips to buy low-priced bonds and preference stocks of organized lines. Atchison adjustments were again strong, the market here going for the 3 per cent dividend in July. New York prices were a little disappointing, and hence a slight reaction came at the c.oec. Kaffirs were good.
Not the least factor in the stocks at the moment is Mr. Labouchere's position in the committee on inquiry. Money is very dear, India fifteen lakhas special council bills sold up to 1607-16, and the Bank of Bombay estate had risen to 10 per cent. Details of the gold movement for the week show the sale of $354,000 in gold, chiefly for Russia and Austria. and the receipts of 150,000 from

Paine, Murphy & Co.'s Cotton Letter. Atlanta, May 27.—The market today has been very dull and utterly devoid of inter-est. Opening quotations indicated a very steady market at a slight advance over last steady market at a slight advance over last evening in response to rather favorable advices from Liverpool, where futures closed at a net advance of about a half point. The temper of New York continues rather bearlsh, but there was today no aggressive selling by the leading bears. Today's trading has centered largely in the new cropmonths, which have been in better demand for Liverpool account than for some time. This was the first notice day on June contracts. Notices to the extent of about 13,000 bales are reported to have been issued, but they have been stopped by strong people and have not exerted any depressing effect upon prices. The trade generally appears to be waiting upon further and more definite news regarding the growing crop. The existing pessimistic feeling, due in large measure to the fact that trade is disposed to compare the present session with that measure to the fact that trade is disposed to compare the present session with that of 1896-91, when conditions during the spring months were to a great extent similar to those prevailing thus far this year. Notwithstanding the bad start received last year the crop approximated nearly 9.000.000 bales, consequently the cotton world generally is disposed to wait further developments before entering into any avarage. opments before entering into any extension gagements on either side. The outlo at present, however, seems not entirely sat isfactory, and this is especially true when we make comparisons with last year. The new crop months have been continuously sold for some time, and this selling has apparently been based on last year's conditions. New York spots 7%c; 'sales 1.824 bales. New York, May 27.—About 15,000 bales were delivered on June contracts today, the cotton falling into the hands of the largest house in the trade, who are now in a position to offer the high grades abroad at the quotations ruling for medium grades, of which there is a great scancity. Advices from North Carolina have been received asking for quotations for cotton to be shipped to the mills, as they must come to this market for their supply if they run full time. Fall River advices state that there will be no concerted action regarding short time. Each individual will pursue his own course. Judging from the recent purchases of cotton here for the eastern mills, no united movement for curtailment is probable. The feeling regarding the market is intensely berish, not only here, but throughout the cotton belt, and the improvement abroad is due to a little more buying by Manchester spinners. It, however, failed to have any effect except to advance the distant position which the Liverpool merchants had sold against their cotton. A limited demand was the reason for the decline at the close. New crop positions were relatively firm. It is reported that freight room has been engaged for 15,000 bales. The trade expects a lower foreign market tomorrow. Hubbard Bros. & Co.'s Cotton Letter.

New York, May ZI.—(Special.)—The cotton market was almost stagnant today. Liverpool was very dull, but reported a small advance. This report was considered favorable, and our market opened higher in sympathy with it, but outside business was at a standstill, and as the sentiment of local operators was still bearish, prices declined again. There was no new feature of any kind to influence the trading. Several thousand June delivery notices were issued, but were taken care of and their circulation had no effect. August opened at 7.15. advanced to 7.18. declined to 7.15 and closed at 7.15. The crop months showed the most steadiness today and they closed one to two points above last night's.

Paine, Murphy & Co.'s Grain Letter. Atlanta, Ga., May 27.-Today's market Atlanta, Ga., May 21.—Today's market has been dull and drooping without any particular news either way. At the opening it showed some slight firmness owing to covering by shorts, who were uneasy over the reports from Liverpool regardover the reports from Liverpool regarding the weather in France and rumors of buying for foreigners. After this, however, the weakness at St. Louis became so marked that, lacking support, our market yielded in sympathy. Liverpool opened and closed weak, ½d lower, and cables stated the r decline was in sympathy with us. Continental markets were closed, the day being a holiday. The Price Current's report was about equally in favor of both the bulls and the bears. The winter wheat condition is poor, while spring wheat is rapidly progressing. Northwestern receipts were heavy. Clearances were only moderate at 205,743 bushels, wheat and flour. One hundred and fifteen thousand bushels cash wheat were sold in Ch'cago today for export, but so far New York reports nothing done. So far there is nothing in sight that leads us to look for any marked rally, and we would advise our friends to sell on any hard spots.

Corn and oats ruled weak on large receipts. Continued fine growing weather, the absence of trade and the declining tendency of the wheat market served to keep these cereals depressed.

Provisions—The large receipts of hogs at all points today—SL200, against 60,500 last year—and the large excess over the estimates, have depressed prices. Estimated hogs tomorrow, 25,000. ing the weather in France and rumors of

The Live Stock Market.

Chicago, May 27.—Sales of cattle were low today at barely steady prices, the bulk of the transactions showing a decline of 10@15c per 100 pounds, as compared with the latter part of last week. Native beef 10@15c per 100 pounds, as compared with the latter part of last week. Native beef steers sold at $3.90@3.15, with an occasional sale at $5.255.20. Choice cattle were scarce, and steers sold mainly at $4.60@4.90. The stocker and feeder trade has fallen off this week, but prices are still high with sales at $470@4.55. Butchers and canners stuff continues in moderate supply and in good demand at a somewhat lower average price. Calves were slow and fully 50c lower than early in the week.

In hogs prices suffered a further decline of about 5c per 100 pounds. Heavy and medium weights were numerous, and there were fewer light weights than usual. Sales were made at an extreme range of $2.25@3.62½, the bulk of the hogs crossing the scales at $3.50@3.60. Heavy packing lots sold at $3.25@3.45, and prime light hogs brought $3.62½.

With an active demand prices were strong for sheep, but week for lambs. Sales were on a basis of $2.50@5 for inferior to fancy sheep, few going as low as $3 or above $4.75 for fat; native sheep were again scarce. Texas sheep were numerous and in demand at $30.90; sales were on a basis of $2.256.55 for the poorest to the best lambs, while spring lambs brought $406.

Receipts—Cattle, $500; hogs, $40,000; sheep, 12,000.

Corn Lost 1-4 to 3-8c, Oats a Shad Lower and Provisions Heavy, Closing Slightly Lower.

Chicago, May 27.—Weak outside markets and a fast growing belief in another large wheat crop made easy sailing for the bears today and caused another decline of %c Corn lost ¼@c of its previous value and oats closed a shade lower. Provisiona ruled heavy, but closed at only trifling declines

In wheat the tendency of the price was downward for the most part, although starting firm and a little higher than it closed yesterday. July was wanted at the opening from 70 to 70% c. but the shorts, whose covering caused this little spasm of strength, were so freely accommodated that the market soon dropped, the price by 10:30 o'clock getting down to 69%c. slight reaction followed, but about 11:30 o'clock the market got an increase o'clock t heaviness and broke its previous bounds reaching 69/2009/2c by noon. The early news was not of a character to influence the market much either way. The degline at Liverpool was scarcely the equivalent of the drop here, and at any rate from ing been expected, it did not attract much attention. Receipts at Chicago were 4 car loads, and quantity inspected out of store was 53,000 bushels. Minneapolis and Duluth receipts were 401 cars, against 486 a week ago and 438 on the corresp ing day of the year before. Export clear-ances of wheat and flour from the seaboard were only moderate at 255,000 bushels. The weather being still favorable the traders saw in anticipation a large crop harvest-ed. The nearness of cutting time in Texas and Okiahoma was used for all that could be got out of it, and for much more than it was worth to scare the buils. A break be got out of it, and for much more more it was worth to scare the buils. A break of le at St. Louis, caused probably by the hearness of the time when new wheat will come on that market, went a long ways toward accentuating the weakness of the local markets. Trading was active while the break was in progress, and it continued in a nervous condution for half an hour thereafter. July recovered from by debac to by debac, then dropped to by, around 694c and declined to by debac. The market steadied and recovered to 694c. The lakest trading was at 694c.

Corn was weak with prices averaging youncer yesterday's close. The talk was that the recepts next week will average 900 cars a day. There was a big cash trade, but londers of futures liquidated, and the market was lower from the start. The net recepts were 34 cars. July opened a shade lower at 24c, sold at 24c/244c, then declined to 25%c, where it closed.

Onts were steady at a shade under yesterday's close, the slight decline being caused by local recepts of 45c cars. The shipping demand was not so good, but offerings west showed a falling off. Good support was given the market at the decline. July opened unchanged at 1146617%c.

ferings west showed a falling off he decline. July opened unchanged at 174,6175c. dich ned to 175c and recovered to 175c, where it closed.

Prov sions were affected by a large run of hogs and the weak grain markets. Liquidation and some short selling caused an early declin., but before the close nearly all of this had been recovered. At the close July pork was 25c lower at $3,00, and July 185 about 5c lower at $3,00, and July 185 about 5c lower at $4,324,634,25.

Sulfis Involve a Large Amount of City Improved Real Estate Owned by B. J. Wilson.

The Wilkinson-Wilson litigation, covering a period of more than fifteen years of legal contention, was reached yesterday morning in the superior court before Judge Lumpkin. The facts in the case, the charges of fraud, the emphatic affirmations and unequivocal denials make the fight one of exceeding interest from both stand points in the case

The story of the liftgation dates back to

The story of the liftgation dates back to to the time Major U. B. Wilkinson and Colonel B. J. Wilson were in co-partnership in Savannah. The parties were in the cotton business, buying cotton from the interior of the states and shipping it to distant points. After several years of Successful business, in which both partners are said to have made handsome fortunes, the partnership was dissolved. Major Wilkinson returning to his home in Newnan and Colonel Wilson coming to Atlanta. Colonel Wilson was a resident of West End until fils death, which occurred several months ago in Hot Springs. Major Wilkinson, the plaintiff in the case, is a resident of College Park, being one of the moving factors in the establishment of the little suburb.

After the business was dissolved in Savannah, Major Wilkinson claims he insisted that Colonel Wilson make a statement of the firm's condition, so that a settlement could be made. This was refused, it is claimed, and the litigation was inaugurated in the courts. The case has been back and forth in the courts and before a special master, a judgment being recently given against Colonel Wilson in favor of Major Wilkinson in the sum of more than $25,000. When the levy was to be made, it was ascertained that Colonel Wilson had no property. He had deeded it away to members of his family and it is under the claims of these holders that the present feature in the case has been reached for trial. Fidelity Depositors Threaten Warrants Against Officers.

WARM MEETING LAST NIGHT

Criminal Proceedings To Be Instituted if Payment is Refused.

DEPOSITORS WILL EMPLOY COUNSEL

Red Hot Resolution Was Introduced at Meeting of Depositors and a Committee Authorized To Act Was Appointed by the Chairman.

Unless the depositors of the Fidelity Banking and Trust Company are paid within ten days, criminal proceedings will be in stituted against all officers and director who have been connected with the bank from its organization until the day of its

This announcement came last night from the depositors who met to discuss the sit uation. The meeting was behind closed doors, but it is understood that some very caustic remarks were made in regard to the delay of the stockholders in arranging for the payment of depositors.

The resolution giving ten days warning to officers and directors was introduced by Mr. Charles E. Hanye, a depositor. The esolution, it is said, was unanimously car ried and the committee named in the resolution will meet at the bank this morning at 9 o'clock for the purpose of selecting counsel who shall represent the interests of the depositors.

It has been initmated since the failure of the bank that the laws regulating the conduct of banks have been violated and it has been openly charged that deposits were received by the Fidelity Banking and Trust Company, when it was known to the officers that the bank was insolvent. The delay occasioned by the stockholders in paying the deposit list has irritated the depositors and the threatened action was aken last night.

A bill is also in course of preparation in which the stockholders will be sued for the amount of their double liability under the bank's charter. Unless some action is promptly taken by the stockholders, officers and directors, it is apparent that the affairs of the bank will become badly complicated and the statement has been made that a large portion of the assets is threat-would follow such action. "There has been much delay in this matter," said a prominent stockholder last night after the meeting at the office of the "We have waited patiently for the stockholders to take some definite action We have accepted the only proposition tha was made us looking toward a settlement. We did this in good faith. It seems the stockholders were only playing with us and regarded the matter as a joke. "We have now decided to take the necessary steps. We have been of the opinion all along that somebody was guilty of a violation of the law. We now intend to proceed against the officers and directors in a criminal court and we will push the case just as far as it becomes necessary." The resolution adopted by the depositors

The resolution adopted by the depositors last night is as follows:

"Resolved That a committee of five, consisting of W. W. Kirkpatrick, C. E. Hanye, H. H. Schaul, J. T. Buchanan and J. B. Tate be appointed, whose duty it shall be to look specially after the interest of the depositors. They shall, if they see fit, employ counsel to protect the depositors against any illegal transactions by the officers and stockholders of the Fidelity Banking and Trust Company, and this committee is hereby directed to notify within three days every stockholder and officer of said bank who are now officers and stockholders of said bank or have been since the organization of the bank, that an agreement was made by the stockholders at a meeting held April 23d to pay the depositors in full within six months, in four payments, viz: Onefourth in thirty days, one-fourth in six months, one-fourth in six months and one-fourth in six months, one-fourth in six months and one-fourth in six months, each stockholder giving notes to the receiver for the full amount he is liable.

"That agreement was presented to the depositors at a meeting held April 25th, by a committee consisting of W. W. Draper, D. H. Livermore, A. L. Hobrook and W. M. Everett, and umanimously accepted by the depositors. We are now informed that the agreement to place with the receiver sufficient solvent notes to pay in full the depositors has not been done, nor has sufficient funds been placed in the hands of the receiver to make the first payment. That if the agreement as entered into is not carried out and solvent notes placed in the hands of the receiver to make the first payment. That if the agreement as entered into is not carried out and solvent notes placed in the hands of the receiver to make the first payment. That if the agreement as entered into is not carried out and solvent notes placed in the hands of the receiver to make the first payment. That if the agreement as entered into is not carried out and solvent notes placed in the hands of the receiver to make last night is as follows:

Mr. H. H. Schaul was elected chairman of last night's meeting and Mr. Charles Hanye was secretary. The entire situation was freely discussed and the depositors

The special committee appointed from the depositors will meet this morning and select an attorney and decide upon the manner in which the officers and directors shall Frantic Efforts To Get to Him-He In Found-The Thrilling Denoue ment and Prologue.

"Help! Murder! Come to me quick!"
The cries came sharp and shrill from the prison at the police barracks last night about 9 o'clock.
Turnkey Jeff Steerman had taken a pris-

The cry sounded as if it came from him.

Station Sergeant Brazleton dropped his penstaff and opened his office door.

"Great God." he exclaimed, "somebody is killing Steerman."

Other officers at the barracks heard the cries, for they were still proceeding from the prison, and they made a rush for the hall into which the prison door opens. "For heaven's sake come to me quick!
Help! Murder!"
The officers were collected at the door

"Jeff. is that you? "Speak to us. Tell us what is the mat-and they began to call out:

"Can't you come and open the door?"

And all the time came the cries of "murder" and "help."

Every person at that door was certain the voice was that of the turnkey.
"That man must be helped," exclaimed the station sergeant, "or he will be mur-

"Some of the prisoners are surely killing him," added a patrolman who was on the But there was no possible way to get to the poor turnkey. In going in with the prisoner he had locked the door on the inside and taken the keys with him.

There could be little doubt that the man shricking for help was the turnkey, for it was certain he was inside the prison, and if it was not he in trouble some answer would have come to all the questions yelled through the bars by the officers.

The question was, how to go to the unlucky turnkey. It would take hours to break down the door or through a window. And the cries were getting muffled and lower as if the unfortunate victim was being slowly choked.

The crowd at the door got desperate, and suddenly one of them exclaimed:
"We can get through the recorder's court

COURTHOUSE DEAL

New City Hall Cannot Be Used for Any Other Purpose.

MANY OPPOSE THE CONTRACT

Think the City Should Be Allowed To Do as She Pleases.

THIS ISSUE MAY BRING ON A HEATED FIGHT

Bond for Title Provides That City Must Not Use Courthouse but for City Hall.

A clause in the bond for title from the county to the city, transferring the county courthcuse for city hall purposes, has me with decided objection. The objectionable clause states that the city is to use the courthouse building only for city hall purposes so long as the county shall use the proposed new courthouse for courthouse purposes. The contract binds the city for an unlimited period, as will be seen by reference to the bond for persons to protest against the trade.

It has been stated by several that the city ecuncil has no right nor authority to make a binding contract of this character and it is quite probable that a fight will soon be made upon the issue. Those opposing the contract say the deal was prob ably just what the city needed, but they do not propose to see the city bound to main tain the city's home in the present courthouse, believing the city might have occacessity ever arise.

"The present courthouse," said a gentle man yesterday, "after it is remodeled and repaired, will fill every want for the pres ent. But suppose the city outgrows its quarters? Suppose the 200,000 mark is reached within the next ten years? Shall the city be required to live in that building after it has outgrown the lot and probably the entire block? I think it's mere child's play for the city to sign an agreemen like the one that has been signed. I am against it and I know there are many others who did not know anything abou that clause in the bond for title." It is contended that the county will have building which will be suited to the needs of the county officials for many years to come, while the present courthouse is now only large enough to accommodate the city

The contract which has caused the pro test states that the city, as one of th considerations in the contract, shall use the building sold by the county as a city hall so long as the new building is used by the county for a courthouse. "I don't know what other people think," said Alderman Dimmick yesterday, "but speaking for myself. I wish to say that I do not favor the city obligating itself in any manner. We don't know when it might be desirable to change the home of the city, and it's bad policy to sign an agreement such as has been signed."

The reason why this clause was inserted and incorporated in the bond for title from he county to the city, was that the officials who signed the paper were anxious tha the homes of the city and county be always as close together as possible. It is hardly possible that anything else was intended by the commissioners, who say their only idea was to place the two public buildings as conveniently together as could be arranged. Another point which, no doubt, was considered, was that the county courthouse would not be located near building which could be used for a manufacturing plant or some business that would interrupt the courts which were in session.

City Engineer Says the Proposed Railroad Structure Is Too Light.

IT NEED NOT BE QUITE SO WIDE

A Conference Was Held Yesterday Points Were Discussed.

OBJECTION ALSO MADE TO THE GRADES

That Matter, However, Can Be Arranged by Spending More Money in Lengthening Approaches.

The city engineer and the bridge committee are not thoroughly satisfied with the Mitchell street viaduct submitted by the Southern railway. At a conference held at the city hall yesterday afternoon the city officials pointed out some objections which they have. They say that the viaduct is too light. They want the beams the buckle plates and other parts made of heavier steel.

The plans provided for a viaduct seventyfive feet wide with two roadways, each twenty-five feet wide and two foot walks. each twelve and one-half feet wide. The city engineer says that sixty feet would be wide enough. That would give one roadway forty feet wide and two foot walks each ten feet in width.

Objection is also made to the grades on the approaches. The grade on the eastern approach is 7 per cent. By extending this approach 100 to 150 feet, the grade would be avoided and the bridge entrance on that end would be nearly level. The city en-gineer claims that a mistake of 100 feet has been made in the length of the western approach, and says that if this is corrected the grade will be reduced to 4 per cent, which is acceptable.

The engineer suggests some extensions of the retaining walls on both approaches. All the matters will be gone over carefully the matters will be gone over carefully tomorrow at the conference. What difference the proposed changes will make in the cost is problematical. Some of the work is much too light to suit the city engineer, who would have it doubled in weight.

Only two copies came in the mail. They were addressed to the post commander. One of these, by the regulations of the army, was turned over to Captain Romeyn, the accused, and the other is to be kept among the private papers of the post.

It was impossible to get a copy of the findings of the court as Major Porter refused to give out the copy sent to be recorded and Captain Romeyn will not consent to have the verdict made public.

Upon competent authority it is know that nearly every one of the charges made by Lieutenant O'Brien was sustained. The verdict is printed in pamphlet form and makes a complete review of the case. It s printed in small type and covers four pages, each charge filed being paragraphed and the decision of the court martial following each.

On the last page is printed the verdict lismissing Captain Henry Romeyn, of the Fifth regiment, infantry, from the army. Hoskins Can Preach No More on the Streets.

And Held the Bible Up To Ridicule and Contempt.

HIS TRIAL IN THE POLICE COURT

The Recorder Decides That He Was Violating a City Ordinance by Obstructing the Street-Sensational Evidence-Hoskins's Statement.

The voice of the itinerant street preacher who denounced the Bible as a myth and Christ as an imposter, has been silenced upon the streets of Atlanta.

By a decision in the recorder's court yesterday afternoon, made by Judge Andy Calhoun, in the case of W. W. Hoskins, charged with disorderly conduct and obstructing the streets, the city of Atlanta has virtually proclaimed that there shall be no public denunciations of the accepted religion of the Christian people. In spite of the declaration in the constitution of the United States, giving the right of free speech, the incorporated city will refuse the legal permit for any person to stand upon the public thoroughfare and defame the Bible.

For thirty nights Hoskins has stood up on the corner of Peachtree and Marietta streets and sought to lessen the faith of the recple in the Holy Bible and to show them that Jesus Christ was an imposter and not the Son of God. He became bolder and bolder in his declarations until the matter began to be commented upon by the good people of the city who accepted the Bible as the revealed word of God. The police commissioners looked into the matter and the chief of police decided to revoke the permit which had been given Hoskins to preach on the streets. Tuesday night Hoskins was notified by Sergeant Poole that his permit had been revoked and he must cease his preaching. He did so for a short while, but began again just to make a test case of the matter, and he was arrested and the charges of obstructing the streets and disorderly conduct were

The Infidel in Court. Hoskins's trial took place in the police court yesterday afternoon. He was represented by Attorney Gowdy and entered a plea of not guilty. The courtroom was packed with an eager and curious audience. Patrolm r. Whitley testified that Hoskins had gathered great crowds around him, taking up sometimes fully half the street. He had heard the man say the Bible was false and that Christ was a humbug. People who had heard him had become very it dignant and on several occasions there was talk of laying violent hands on the Denunciation of Christ.

Patrolman Kitchens testified that he heard Hoskins say that Jesus Christ was an "imposter, a liar, a hypocrite."
Sergeant Poole told how Hoskins was arrested, giving all the circumstances of the arrest and Hoskins's conduct. Hoskins, the sergeant said, wanted to be arrested, so he stated, because he wished to make a test case and then sue the city for damages.

Chief Connolly made a statement about the granting of a permit to Hoskins. "I saw Hoskins at my house," said the chief, "and gave him the permit not knowing what kind of preaching he intended to do. If I had known how he was going to talk would have refused the permit." "Then you are holding a religious cen-torship over Atlanta," remarked Attorney

"As the chief of police," replied the chief, "I am holding the power to present order upon the streets of the city." Two negro men testified that they heard Hoskins say that the Bible was a fraud, and Christ a hypocrite and humbug. "He said," remarked one of the negro witnesses, "that God was a fool if He wrote such a book as the Bible. I thought the who was talking was a fool his Hoskins makes a Statement.

Hoskins made a statement to the court. He began to go into the details of his religious creed, or rather irreligious creed, but the recorder stopped him whenever he got too blasphemous.

"I most emphatically deny," said Hoskins, "that I ever said Jesus Christ was a liar and a bastard. I have always contended that He was the legitimate son of Mary and Joseph, but not any son of God. tended that He was the legitimate son of Mary and Joseph, but not any son of God. And I wish to say, parenthetically, that it is a strange thing there should be brought up against me two negroes as witnesses. It is no stigma upon me to say that I am a fool, for even the Bible says that God has 'chosen the foolish thing to confound the mighty.' I never said that the Bible ought to be burned, but I have said that it should not be taught in the schools. I contend that there are portions of the Bible which two ladies cannot sit and read together without blushing. I have made no reflection on woman, but on the Bible. I have never declared that God was a fool. I have stated that the Bible was filled with constants.

Colonel Alfred E. Buck is well on his way to San Francisco and no doubt will be glad when he is safe on board ship outward bound. He reached Chicago on Tuesday and there was promoted to "general" by the newspapers of that city.

A representative of The Times-Herald interviewed him and drew from the republican boss some strong expressions on Cubs and the tariff. Colonel Buck is an earnest Cuban sympathizer. Speaking of the situaion on the island he said to his interviewer: Wants To See Cuba Free.

"I should like to see the Cubans recog-nized as insurgents. Had I been in the sen-ate I should have voted for the resolution which was passed today by that body. GO AT AUCTION

An Excellent Sale of Pretty Peachtree Property Yesterday Afternoon.

THE SALE NETTED $30,853.50

Colonel Adair Conducted Sale-Land Brought Very Good Prices.

CROWD IN ATTENDANCE WAS A GOOD ONE

Fine Residences Will Probably Be Erected on the Peachtree Lots Which Were Auctioned Off.

One of the best auction sales of vacan Atlanta property that has taken place the present year occurred yesterday afternoon on Peachtree street between Seventh and Eighth streets, and was conducted by Colonel George W. Adair, the veteran real estate agent.

There were ten vacant lots to be sold, five fronting Peachtree street and five fronting Juniper street. The lots were all beautiful ones and are conveniently situated. The sale of them was good and es pecially was this the case with the Peach tree street property. The building lots are in a popular Peachtree vicinity, just diagonally across from the beautiful home of Judge Tompkins. The purchasers will erect handsome homes on each of the lots.

When Colonel Adair called for the at tention of the crowd that had assembled and it was an unusually large crowd, he stated that he intended to sell the property, if such was possible. He described the very acceptable location of the land and told of the wonderful growth of the city, and especially that section of the city.

The crowd was one of the best that has attended an auction sale of property in Atlarta in many years. It was com posed of representative business men, both young and old. It was a moneyed crowd and was there for business. There was nothing slow about the buyers and Colonel Adair's merry quips were answered with bid after bid, and his excellent spirits showed that he was well pleased with the manner in which the sale progressed. The total amount realized from the sale was $30.853 50, and the prices brought by the

The first lot sold was numbered on the plat as No. 6 and was at the corner of eachtree and Seventh streets, fronting Peachtree by 80 feet and running back 200 feet to a 20-foot alley. It adjoins the Balproperty was for $40 a front foot. This increased, and for a while the bidding was lively, but the property finally went to W. M. Nixon for $100 per front foot, or a total of $8,000 for the lot.

The next lot fronted Peachtree street 60 feet and extended back 200 feet. The bidding on this was between G. W. Parrott Jr., and Harry Stearns. It went to Mr. Parrott for $84.50 per front foot, or a total

The next two lots were of the same dinensions and went to Mr. Harry Stearns for $72 a front foot, a total of $3,600 each The last lot fronting Peachtree was a corner lot and went to Mr. Roby Robinson for $81.50 per front foot, a total of $3,993.50.

The total amount of the Peachtree property sold was $23,443.50. The property went to men who will each one, in all probability, erect a handsome residence. The sale demonstrates the value of property in this portion of the city and the fact that these new residences are going up will greatly enhance the property near by.

it brought very good prices, did not bring anything like that on Peachtree street, There were five of these lots, and each one was 60 feet by 200. The first went to Mr. Kirkpatrick for $30 a front foot, a total of $1,800. The rext one went to A. P. Carter for $27 a front foot, a total of $1,620. The last three were bought in by M. Regenstein, two for $25 a front foot and the last for $15 per front foct.

At the conclusion of the sale Mr. Adair stated that every one of the sales made by him were bona fine and would be binding on the men who had bid. The terms of the sale were one-fifth cash and the balance in one, two, three, four and five years, at 7 per cent interest.

NIGHT SCHOOL BOYS' DEBATE.

They Will Have Their Annual Contest

Tuesday Night.

An event that is looked forward to with great interest is the annual debate of the Boys' Night school, which will take place at Browning hall in the Girls' High school building, next Tuesday evening.

The question to be debated by the enterprising young orators of the night school is, "Resolved, That deeds have had more in-fluence on mankind than words:"

Messrs. Reeves, London, Sewall, Brown and Love will speak for the affirmative side and Messrs. Jackson, Pitt, Nichols, Dougherty and Volberg will represent the negative. Besides the debate there will be the annual closing exercises of the school, which will this year be much more inter-esting than usual. A splendid programme of declamations, recitations and other features of interest have been arranged. The music for the occasion will be furnished by music for the occasion will be furnished by Wurm's orchestra.

The night school numbers among its pupils some of the brightest young boys of the city, who are taking advantage of the great opportunities afforded by the night school. This school has proved an unprecedented success during the eight years of its existence. It has piaced educational advantages in the way of many young men who were struggling to win learning and a living at the same time.

A great feature of the night school is the debating society. The young men have for a long time been meeting and debating various subjects. The school has some of the best orators in the city and the debate Tuesday cannot fail to prove interesting.

A BIG HIT, SAYS AUGUSTA.

The Grand Summer Opera Company Catches on in That City. The opera company which will begin a season of eight weeks at the Grand, on June 7th, is now playing in Augusta. The opening bill Monday night was "Said Pasha" and the hig hit it made can be seen from the following, taken from The News of Tuesday:

of Tuesday:

Probably the greatest interest centered in Miss Katherine Germaine, the prima donna of the company. She made a striking impression upon her first appearance, being dressed in the characteristic appeared of the Turkish harem, and her white satin waist and shirt were covered with fewels. With the first notes, you're summonsed me, my father,' she proved that her voice was of a beautiful quality, splendidly cultivated and with a perfect intonation. She made a distinct hit in 'oh, deep within my immost heart,' and again in her due with Hadad, 'When'e'er you stand to take command,' her light comedy was charming.

"Miss Mortimer, who sang the role of Queen Alti, made a splendid impression in her singing of 'It Was a Dream,' and she was compelled to respond to an enthusiastic encore.

THE CHIEFS AT PEACE.

THIEF JOYNER MAKES A STATE-MENT CONCERNING A STORY.

The gentle dove of peace hovered over Chiefs Veal and Joyner yesterday and forthwith all the original differences caused by the former's negroes in Wednesday's when Joyner saw the story in The Constitution yesterday morning telling how he had gone into Veal's office and came near had gone into Veal's office and came near pulling Veal's hair for allowing his negroes and dump carts to be seen in public with the fire laddles, the affable fire fighter de-nied it and said the interview was very pleasant. He compliments Veal highly on the showing he made in the parade. Chief Joyner wishes it understood he is not the Joyner wishes it understood he is not the man to go around causing disturbances no matter how insignificant.

Chief Joyner does not deny he was displeased on account of the probability of having to march with negroes. The only report he objects to is that he was mad when he called on Veal and that there came near being a fight, which was published in yesterday's Constitution. What Chief Joyner Says.

What Chief Joyner Says.

"Chief Connolly came to my office Tuesday," said he, "and after discussing the matter we decided to protest against Veal's negroes and carts marching between our departments in the parade. We decided to lodge our complaint with the mayor and went to his office for that purpose, but he was out, and we left word with Mr. Welssenger, his secretary. Connolly then left me and I went to Veal's office. We discussed the matter for some time and there was positively no ill feeling between us. I told Mr. Veal I did not think it exactly right that we should have to parade with negroes and he said he was willing to do anything that was reasonable. He finally proposed that if we objected he would rendezvous his forces on Decatur street and make his parade after we had passed. We chatted pleasantly for several minutes over other matters and were never more friendly or agreeable in our lives. I called on the mayor Wednesday morning, but it was not for the purpose of lodging a complaint of the dump carts and wagons. I merely informed him of the exhibition I expected to present at the inspection. I am glad now that Veal brought out his carts and negroes and I think he made a very creditable showing."

This Sounds Differently. Chief Veal voluntarily gave the following signed statement to The Constitution last

Chief Veal voluntarily gave the following signed statement to The Constitution last night of what transpired between him and Joyner on that memorable occasion:

Editor of The Constitution—Joyner came into my office Tuesday afternoon and asked me if I intended to have my dump carts, wagons and negroes in the parade. He seemed to be excited, and protested vigorously against my plans. I told him I could not make a good showing unless I brought out my whole department, and he told me point blank that we might as well bring out Wylie's chaingang in the parade. Le of course, did not like this, but restrained my temper. He then demanded that I parade the next day after the inspection if I had to bring out my negroes, and I refused. I then offered to take the rear, or wait some time after the regular procession had passed by before I started my column, but he would not agree to this. He then informed me that he was going to keep my carts and negroes out of the procession even if he had to go, to the mayor and board of health to do it. I replied that I was directing the affairs of the sanitary department and that I would ask him and Chief Connoily not to dictate to me. He then went out, and I never heard any more from him that day. I am willing to give an affidavit to the above if necessary. No reporter or representative from any afternoon paper called on me yesterday or communicated with me in any way. THOMAS E. VEAE, Chief Inspector.

What Miss Cohen Says.

What Miss Cohen Says.

Miss Etta Cohen, the secretary of Chief Veal, was present at the interview and furnishes this card:

Editor of The Constitution—Chief Joyner came into the office Tuesday afternoon and the first words he said were that he and Chief Connolly demanded that the negroes and carts be kept out of the procession. Chief Joyner appeared to be greatly excited. Mr. Veal told him he was willing to do anything that was right, and kept remarkably cool under the circumstances, but insisted that he could not make a successful parade unless he brought out his whole department. Chief Joyner then suggested that Mr. Veal wait until the next day to parade, and Mr. Veal would not agree to do this. Mr. Veal would not agree to do this. Mr. Veal offered, however, to wait ten minutes after the others had marched, but Chief Joyner seemed to want to keep the negroes out entirely, and stated he intended to do so if he had to go to the mayor and board of health. He said Captain Wylie might as well bring out the convicts for the public approval. Mr. Veal then said he had well bring out the convicts for the public approval. Mr. Veal then said he had never meddled in the fire or police departments, and that he did not propose that Chiefs Joyner and Connolly should dictate to him. Chief Joyner then went out. He seemed either mad or greatly excited. I do not see how Mr. Veal kept as cool as he did. ETTA COHEN. Another signed statement from J. T. Lowry, one of the inspectors, who was also present, was to the same effect as Miss Cohen's.

SUCCESSFUL PRACTICE.

Dr. Hathaway & Co.'s successful practice in this city, and their having effected cures of chronic diseases at a stage where other physicians of acknowledged ability stood powerless, has stamped them as the leaders in the practice of their specialty. Medical institutes have risen and failen. Specialists have come and gone. Others will come and go the same as those before them, leaving their patients poorer, and uncured; but Dr. Hathaway & Co., through the confidence of an appreciative people, through their unparalleled success in curing disease, have built up an immense and extensive practive which has substantially and permanently established them in this city. In seeking the services of Dr. Hathaway & Co., you place yourself under the treatment of highly educated physicians, physicians whose ambition is to excel, whose lives are devoted to the advancement of the science of medicine and the relief of suffering humanity. They have no single remedy which they deal out as a common cure-ali, nor any mechanical contrivance which is heralded to the world as a remedy for ali ills. Their medical education condemns such methods. Their leftiy aspirations and honesty in practice place such modern impositions back to the days of witchcraft and quackery, where they justly belong. Through constant study and deep research they are always abreast of the times. There are no new discoveries in medicine, no new apparatus to assist the physician but what is at their command as soon as science proves it to be of worth and benefit. Every case that they undertake to cure is treated scientifically with such remedies and such means as in their judgment that particular case requires in order to effect a speedy and permanent cure. They have no experiments to make, for they are thoroughly educated and prepared through experience aiready gained to accomplish their work in the field of medicine. It being an established fact that thousands of men to-day are gradually wasting away from the effects of errors in youth, and also a terrible truth

THE END IS NOT YET WAS RICE DRUGGED

More Litigation Will Probably Follow in Roland Reed Suit.

HE MUST WAIT FOR HIS MONEY

Southern Will Contest the Verdict and the End Is Yet in the Dark, Dim Future.

From the manner in which Roland Reed, Miss Isadore Rush and Mrs. Myers, who recently received a verdict in Macon for damages against the Southern railway, are damages against the Southern railway, are reported to have talked about their cases, it would seem that they are of the opinion that all that remains for them now to do is to go after their checks, but the railroad men of the city seem to think

A prominent railroad man in speaking of the case yesterday said that it would be a long time before the money which has been awarded to the actor and ac-tresses reaches them. It is the consensus of opinion in the city that the Southern will undoubtedly make a motion for a new trial in the case.

This will be heard before Judge Pardee, of New Orleans, and will be some time before he decides whether or not the road is entitled to a new hearing of the case In the event that it is so decided the case will revert to the court of Judge Emory Speer, in Macon, and there all of the evidence which was gone over a few days ago will be repeated.

As it took about two years for the case to be reached the first time, it is likely that a length of time equally as great will elapse before the second trial is reached. It is the opinion of the railroad men that long before this time has claused Roland Reed and the two ladies Mr. John M. Slaton, who aided the plaintiffs in the case, was seen yesterday. He said that every possible advantage was given the rallroad in the hearing of the ase and that if any errors of law been made they were on the side of the railroad. He stated that on this account he did not believe a new trial will be granted in the case if it is applied for.

"The charge of Judge Speer," said he, "was full, able and impartial. Very few points were made in the case and they were generally resolved in favor of the railroad. The court, for instance, stated to the jury that it was his opinion that the case was not one for heavy damages, but in spite of this eleven of the jurors were in favor of giving heavier damages than were given. All error was carefully excluded and the jury was composed of men of the highest standing and many of them were men of large means.

"Of course the case can be taken to the court of appeals at New Orleans for correction of errors of law, and should a new trial be granted we believe that heavier damages would be imposed at a second hearing. If the court of appeals thought that the writ of error was taken out for the purpose of delay it could im-pose ten per cent additional damages as a penalty."

COUDUCTORS' PICNIC AT BEAUTI-FUL TALLULAH FALLS.

A Large Crowd Spend a Pleasant Day and Had a Great Time-Seven Car Loads.

Seven car loads of pleasure seekers who went on the conductors' excursion to Tal-lulah Falls yesterday returned to Atlanta last night at 8 o'clock.

The crowd went out of the city one of the folliest that ever left here, but the death of young Marshall Clower cast a gloom over the picnickers. The accident to him was the only thing that occurred to mar the pleasure of the day. The train that carried the picnickers was made up of seven passenger coaches and one baggage car, and left Atlanta at the appointed time yesterday morning. The crowd arrived at the falls on schedule

A committee composed of Messrs, Mangum and Lattimer had charge of the crowd and their entertainment, and Mr. Evans, the well-known conductor, super-in ded the entire affair. Every one was made to have a good time and the conductors did all in their power to make conductors did all in their power to make the crowd enjoy itself.

Dancing was indulged in at the falls and almost all day long the sweet strains of music were heard. The dinner served at the falls was a magnificent one, and there was plenty for all who were present. A conductor was in charge of each car and the tickets were so lettered that there were not more persons in one car than there were seats for. The conductors who had charge of the train were as follows: had charge of the train were as follows: Section A. French; section B. West; sec-tion C. Sheeler; section D. Waites; sec-tion E. The old stand of McKeldin & Carlton, at Rice Was Seventy-Eight at Time of the corner of Whitehall and Alabama streets, has been leased by Mr. Joseph Jacobs for five years, and one of the handsomest drug emporiums in the south will be opened there to the public in the next The last will and testament of the late

> This move has been contemplated for ome time by Dr. Jacobs, the head of the firm, but his plans were not completed until a few days ago, when it was anounced that the storeroom was soon to be vacated by McKeldin & Carlton.

> The drug firm at once recognized in this ocation one of the very best in the city for the drug business and lost no time in closing their contract with the owners. The establishment will probably be the handsomest on Whitehall street and will be a great credit to the city.

The interior will be fitted up in magnificent style at a large expense. Dr. Jacobs s determined to make the place the fines drug store in the south. The walls and ceiling will be handsomely frescoed, and the floor will be laid in marble tiling.

The fixtures will be unusually handsome The show cases, counters and shelves will be of finest plate glass from the floor up, lending an exquisite beauty to the whole establishment. On the left of the entrance will be one of the handsomest soda fountains in Atlanta, which will be owned and operated by Mr. Harry L. English.

The new establishment will in no way nterfere with the present store of Jacobs, on Marietta street which is already the handsomest in the city. This will be large business they have in the past.

Jacobs and company is one of the mos enterprising firms in this city, as is evidenced by their long and successful career in Atlanta. That they will succeed in their new venture is assured. The new estab-lishment will be a great addition to the business interests of the city, and will receive its full quota of the drug trade.

McKeldin & Carlton will vacate on the first of the month. The carpenters will begin putting in the new fixtures at once, and it will probably be four or five weeks before the new drug store will be thrown open to the public.
